Long-delayed construction projects and practical aspects of their realization in Ukraine

14 September 2016 | Wednesday

Recent arrest of the notorious developer in Kyiv; growing number of unfinished objects, the future development of which is unclear; restart of the long-delayed objects by developers and willingness of the public officers to solve the problem give URE Club a good reason to gather experts, developers, policy makers and other entrepreneurs related to the real estate industry and residential sector in particular to discuss the new prospects and issues of the long-delayed projects.

Timing

9:30 - 10:00 - Welcome coffee

10:00 - 12:00 - Panel discussion

12:00 - 12:30 - Networking

- Vladislav Mikhailenko, Kyiv City Council
- Oksana Goloborodko, head of sales department at Ukrbud development corporation
- Olha Royenko, founder of Royenko Agency
- Oleksandr Izarov, principal at KVV Project architectural bureau
- Manuel Nunez Yanowsky, Hispano-French architect urbanist,

What do we want to discuss?

- Current situation with uncompleted and frozen construction objects in Kyiv and regions: quantity index, government initiatives, precedents;
- Legal aspects of a long-delayed project realization;
- Practical case of a long-delayed project realization by developers;
- Expert evaluation of the building structure and its technical condition;
- Redesign of the building facade and its interior with regard to new trends and customer demands;
- Reputation risks and communication aspects: cooperation with stakeholders, branding and marketing.
